

Report on the two days National Seminar “Polymorphism-its Pharmaceutical and Clinical Relevance

Department of Pharmaceutics, JSS College of Pharmacy, Ooty organized two day National Seminar on the theme”“Polymorphism-its Pharmaceutical and Clinical Relevance”on 29-30th January 2016. The main objective of this theme is to understand the concept of polymorphism and its impact in the pharmaceutical industry.

The seminar has dealt with critical consideration of polymorphism pharmaceutical development, manufacturing consideration and stability. Experts in the field of polymorphism delivered the lectures/practicals. The seminar also highlighted the impact of polymorphism on bio availability through simple case studies and discussion including therapeutic impact on various drug delivery system to clinical studies.

The seminar was inaugurated with a welcome speech by Dr.D.Nagasamy Venkatesh. He also briefed the genesis of the seminar. Dr.Balasubramaniam the research director JSS University Mysuru presided over the function. Dr.K.Gowthamarajan delivered the vote of thanks.

