

Report on
One Day Workshop on Theoretical basis for in silico methods in Biopharmaceutics and Pharmacokinetics

13 August 2018

The inaugural function of One Day Workshop on Theoretical basis for in silico methods in Biopharmaceutics and Pharmacokinetics being organized by Department of Pharmaceutics and department of pharmacy practice, JSS. College of Pharmacy, Ooty (Constituent college of JSS Academy of Higher Education & Research, Mysuru), was held 13 August, 2018.

Dr. S.P. Dhanabal, Principal, JSS. College of Pharmacy, Ooty delivered the welcome address and felicitated the speakers.

Dr. K. Gowthamarajan, Professor and Head, Department of Pharmaceutics, gave the genesis of the workshop and highlighted the importance and need of biopharmaceutics and pharmacokinetics.

Dr. K.P. Arun, Assistant professor, department of Pharmacy Practice, introduced the speakers the delegates.

The sessions begin with introduction about M Analytics by VP Balasubramani, Manager, M Analytics, Coimbatore.

The first scientific session was initiated by Dr.Rajkumar Malayandi from Sun pharmaceuticals industries Ltd., he delivered a talk on PBPK model in formulation research.

The second scientific session was delivered again by Dr.Rajkumar Malayandi and he shown hands on training of using BPPK software

The seminar was also knowledge fully entertained by Dr. Rajkumar M and team Electrolab, on BPPK software (hands on training).

35 delegates from various pharmacy discipline were participated in this workshop.

The seminar was concluded with vote of thanks by Dr. Karri V V S Narayana Reddy.

