MOST IMMEDIATE

Dated the 25th January, 2018

To,

The Executive Director,

Sub:- Manner of conducting NEET(SS), 2018- Reg.

Sir,

I am directed to say that in the year 2017, NEET(SS) was conducted on the basis of Broad Specialty and the NBE prepared merit after scaling/moderation between various subjects and provide a single merit list to Dte.GHS as per their requirement for conducting counselling. Now, the Ministry after consultation with DGHS has decided to conduct NEET(SS), 2018 on the basis of Super-Specialty with an option to students to appear for a maximum of two super specialties so that chances of candidates blocking seat unnecessarily during counselling are minimized. 60% questions may be come from the particular Specialty and 40% questions may come from the Feeder Course Broad Specialty.

Looking at the small number of seats in some super specialties, it will be open for NBE to suitably club super specialties together for NEET(SS).

It is therefore, requested to publish the above pattern for conducting NEET(SS) exam, 2018 and onwards till further orders and prepare the next Super Specialty exam and give ample time to the students for making preparations for NEET(SS), 2018.

Yours faithfully,

(Amit Biswas)

Sub: Scheme of NEET(SS) 2018 – Reg.

Sir,

I am directed to refer to letter No. NBE/IL/NEET-SS/2018/22174 dated 9th March, 2018 and to say that the Ministry vide letter dated 25th January, 2018 has already conveyed its approval to the examination pattern for NEET (SS) such that 60% questions are asked from concerned super specialty and 40% from the feeder course broad specialty. NBE has been entrusted with the conduct of NEET (SS) and is competent to design the details of examination including the question paper within the broad parameter as already agreed. This Ministry is of the view that the concept of primary feeder broad specialty for a super specialty may be adverse to the other eligible broad specialties for that particular super specialty. Therefore, 40% of the questions, which is proposed to be asked from primary feeder broad specialty, should be asked from all the feeder broad specialties. However, as the design of question paper comes under the ambit of NBE, you are free to decide the matter at your own level.

2. It is further, requested that the scheme may be notified urgently to enable students prepare for the said exam.

Yours faithfully

(Amit Biswas)
